Dajak

"Dayak" is a boat that is unique to the Vrbas River and to the City of Banja Luka, just like gondola is unique to Venice. The beginnings of this boat are believed to coincide with those of the City of Banja Luka. Over the centuries, this unusual vessel has become a symbol of the City, leaving a mark in the culture of its residents. It was used for commercial purposes, to transport goods both from one river bank to another and up or down the river. The City offers a 15-kilometer navigation route running through its urban parts, where the Vrbas River is shallow along the river banks with river bottom suitable for pushing with a pole, after which this boat was named. Take advantage of the unique opportunity to get to know the City on the Vrbas River accompanied by experienced dayak drivers. TOURIST TOUR → Zeleni Most (Green Bridge) → First Mill → Kastel → Zeleni Most

Free climbing

Numerous climbing areas, some of which are higher than 250 meters, good quality routes - paths of different degrees of difficulty, are available to all climbing enthusiasts and those who would like to try this attractive sport - from beginners to experienced climbers looking for the most challenging sections and paths. Learn the basics of free climbing, just like abseiling - a mountaineering technique of going down a rock by sliding down a rope under the safe leadership and guidance of an instructor. The Tijesno Canyon is the most interesting part of the Zvečajska Gorge for climbing, and the entire climbing area is seven kilometers long. The possibility of climbing long routes (more than 250 m) just like a beautiful view of the Vrbas River valley from the Canyon cliffs make it an indispensable part of the climbing experience. Kameni Most (The Stone Bridge) is an unusual natural phenomenon. The climbing area consists of four sections with more than twenty shorter sport routes (up to two lengths or 40 meters at most). The climbing area consists of four sections with more than 20 shorter sports routes (up to two lengths or 40 meters at most).

Mariastern Abbey and Delibašino selo (Delibašino Village)

The Abbey is situated at a distance of five kilometers from the city center. The Church, which has, also, been a parish church for more than 30 years is open for visitors. After visiting the Church, you shouldn't miss to visit the permanent exhibition about Banja Luka Trappists and buy some of the products made by the monks, such as the famous Trappist cheese. This cheese is made according to a secret recipe, which is currently known to only one monk. After the tour, we recommend a break in the "Zlatna krigla" (Golden Mug) beer hall that is located near the Banja Luka Brewery, where you can taste Nektar beer. The old Hydroelectric Power Plant, a place that the town on the Vrbas River got its first lights from, is also open for visitors. Thanks to the Trappist Hydroelectric Power Plant, Banja Luka was among the first cities in the region to be provided with electricity and electric public lighting, as many as eight years before Zagreb according to historical data. The Mariastern Abbey can be reached by bus number 1. You can get on the bus at the stop in front of Krajina Square. Get off at the last stop.

This line operates according to the following schedule:

On Sundays: 05:30 to 23:00 every 30 minutes

Krupa na Vrbasu (Krupa on the Vrbas River)

Krupa na Vrbasu is located at a distance of 25 kilometers from Banja Luka, on the M16 (E661) road leading to Jajce and Mrkonjić Grad. Sites that are not to be missed are waterfalls and watermills on the Krupa River, the Monastery of St. Elijah (12th century), the Greben medieval ruin, the springs of the Krupa River and the log cabin church. There are gristmills on the river, some of which are still active today. There you can buy homemade flour ground at the mills. The medieval Greben Grad - fortress is in ruins today. Only the tower above the Vrbas River and part of the ramparts that descend towards the river canyon have been somewhat better preserved. The walk from the Monastery to the remains of the Greben fortress takes about 20 minutes.

You can get to Krupa na Vrbasu from the center of Banja Luka by car in less than 30 minutes.

Just follow the M16 or E661 road to Jajce and it will take you to Krupa na Vrbasu. Bus lines that run to Krupa na Vrbasu depart from the Main Bus Station making a stop, after ten minutes, at the "Old Bus Station" stop in Vidovdanska Street across from the Museum of Contemporary Art of Republic of Srpska. Gospodska ulica

Toward the end of the 19th century, a number of single-storey Neo-Renaissance buildings were constructed in Gospodska Street (Veselina Masleše Street), and later on, also, buildings with the elements of Art Nouveau style, designed for commercial and residential purposes. Most of these buildings have been preserved to this day, forming a representative pedestrian zone in the city center. Today, these buildings along the Gospodska Street house a number of shops offering goods made by domestic and international manufacturers.

The best way to get to know Banja Luka, its natural, cultural and historical sights is in the company of professional tourist guides. # Tourist attractions in the city center

1 Kastel Fortress

The Fortress is the oldest monument in the area of Banja Luka. Today's appearance of the Fortress dates from the penultimate decade of the 16th century, from the time of the Ottoman rule and the reign of Ferhad Pasha Sokolović. Today, the Kastel Fortress is a Category I monument and a place where you can experience the spirit of the past. During the warmest months, various festivals, concerts and cultural events are held on its summer stage. The "Kazamat" restaurant is situated inside the Fortress offering an authentic ambience and local cuisine.

2 Safikada's tomb

The tomb is located across from the western gate of the Kastel Fortress. It bears witness to the Banja Luka legend of eternal love. It has plaques with an inscription telling the legend of a young woman from Banja Luka. Even today, lovers light candles there for their eternal love.

3 Ferhadija Mosque

The Mosque is one of the most valuable cultural and historical monuments of oriental culture in Bosnia and Herzegovina. It was built in 1579 during the reign of Ferhad Pasha Sokolović, when Banja Luka became the seat of the Bosnian Pashaluk. It was demolished in 1993, during the civil war, and rebuilt in 2016 following the model of the same building.

4 Palas Hotel

The Hotel was built in the 1930s. At that time, it was a luxury hotel that would measure up with the then Belgrade or Zagreb. What made it special was its acoustic cinema with 400-500 seats, a place where Banja Luka film lovers gathered.

5 Krajina Square

The area of this Square was shaped after the 1969 earthquake that pulled down the well-known Titanic building. The Boska department store, built in 1978, is situated on the square. At the main entrance to the Boska store, more precisely on its facade, there is a memorial - relief, the work of Banja Luka sculptor Slobodan Dragas, depicting, in addition to the destructive power of the earthquake, eight buildings that were destroyed in the earthquake. There is also a memorial clock on the Square, the hands of which stopped forever due to the terrible earthquake that took place at 9 hours and 11 minutes on October 27, 1969, with a magnitude of 8.5 on the Mercalli scale.

6 Petar Kočić Park

The central city park is adorned with a monument honoring the national tribune Petar Kočić, after whom the park was named. It was built during the time of the Vrbas Banate. There is a Music Pavilion situated in the center of the park where various cultural events are held.

7 Gospodska ulica

Gospodska ulica is the main pedestrian and shopping street in Banja Luka. Its official name is Veselina Masleše Street, but it is better known as Gospodska Street. There is an interesting story that the street was named by a famous Banja Luka merchant, Toma Radulović, who owned a shop at the beginning of the street, on which he placed a board with the inscription "Gospodska ulica" to prevent villagers from entering the shop and just looking at products. That name has remained to this day.

8 Banate Administration and Banski Dvor buildings

The two buildings were built during the time of the Vrbas Banate and its first ban, Svetislav Tisa Milosavljević, at a location where the Seminary Building, Brammer's pharmacy and the famous Balkan Hotel had been pulled down. During the time of the Vrbas Banate, the Administration building served for Administrative Service's purposes, and the Banski Dvor building was the house of culture. The buildings serve similar functions today, meaning that the Administrative Service of the City of Banja Luka and the Mayor are seated in the Banate Administration building, and the Banski Dvor building, in the premises of which various events of educational, cultural and promotional character are organized, has retained its cultural purpose. Throughout the year, many cultural events, such as concerts of classical music, exhibitions, book promotions, ceremonial academies, are held at the Banski Dvor Cultural Center. We recommend to have a look at its monthly program at www.banskidvor.org. The opening hours of the Center are from 8:00 to 22:00 on weekdays, from 9:00 to 13:00 on Sundays. Contact details: ☎ +387 (0) 51 305 336 and banskidvor.kc@blic.net.

9 Presidential Palace

The Palace building was built to serve as a branch of the Mortgage Bank during the Vrbas Banate. Made in the style of Bauhaus and Classicism it has become recognizable by its monumental bronze figures of Krajina peasants, and. It was adapted in 2008 for the needs of the institution of the President of Republic of Srpska.

10 Museum of Republic of Srpska

The Museum of Republic of Srpska has a permanent exhibition set up, which includes, in particular, archeological, natural history and ethnological exhibitions. Opening hours are every day from 8:00 to 20:00. The price of the ticket is BAM 3, and for groups (more than 5 persons) the price is BAM 2. Contact details: ☎ +387 (0) 51 215 973; muzejrs@inecco.net, www.muzejrs.com.

11 Cathedral of Saint Bonaventure

The Cathedral was built at a place where a Gothic church, destroyed in the earthquake, had formerly stood. The current modern look of the Cathedral is inspired by the Old Testament tent, but also by the residential tent because many Banja Luka residents were forced to stay in alternative accommodation after the earthquake.

12 Temple of Christ the Savior

The Temple was built from 1925 until 1929 and solemnly consecrated in 1939. It was designed by Dušan Živanović, an architect from Belgrade. The temple is a work of Serbo-Byzantine architecture that developed at the end of the 19th and the beginning of the 20th century. It was demolished in the Second World War and rebuilt, according to the same design and under the name of the Temple of Christ the Savior, from 1993 until 2004. Today, the Temple of Christ the Savior is one of the most beautiful and greatest architectural achievements in terms of Orthodox temples in the Balkans.

13 National Theater

The National Theater was founded as the theater of the Vrbas Banate in 1930. After four years, the Theater moved into its today's home, a building built at the time to serve as the home of King Peter I the Liberator. After the Second World War it became the Bosnian Krajina Theater. In the early 90's, it grew into the National Theater of Republic of Srpska. Theatrical performances are today held in this Theater on a regular basis. Its repertoire is available at www.np.rs.ba, and tickets can be booked by dialing the following number ☎ +387 (0) 51 314 006.

15 Museum of Contemporary Art

The Museum is situated in the old railway station building. During the year, the Museum of Contemporary Art of Republic of Srpska hosts exhibitions of world-famous names in the field of contemporary art. The opening hours of the Museum are every day from 10:00 to 22:00, and the entrance is free. Nightlife

Banja Luka is justifiably famous for its amazing nightlife. Unlike other cities, there is no day in a week here that does not offer opportunities for this type of entertainment suitable for all generations, all lifestyles and for every pocket! The only thing that you need to know is the rhythm of the Banja Luka's nightlife.

"Warming-up for a night out" starts mainly in coffee bars located in the pedestrian zone in the city center or on the Vrbas River banks. After "warming-up", you need to choose the right place for entertainment, depending on your musical taste, age and lifestyle. Banja Luka clubs provide all-night entertainment in all musical rhythms - from folk, through local pop, rock and roll to techno music. Choosing the right place for fun is relatively easy: take a walk around the city, listen to its sounds and atmosphere, and let your ears be your guide! Clubs are different in terms of their interior, atmosphere, prices and entry rules, and some of the most popular are Boom Boom Room, Space Club and Opium.

If you are a pop rock music fan, we suggest you visit Mac Tire Pub, Peckham Pub or Cubana, and if you prefer folk music, go to Kafana, Jova bar, Krug or Flores. Restaurants Gatsby, Stara Ada, Bizzare and Debela Berta pub will attract guests of different musical tastes because that is precisely what their repertoire is like - diverse. All of these places offer live music. You may find more information on their current performers on their Instagram profiles.

Gastro offer

From luxury restaurants with international cuisine to traditional taverns with traditional food. In the sphere of culinary achievements, Banja Luka really has a lot to be proud of. However, the specificity of the gastronomy of the city on the Vrbas River is banjalučki čevap (Banja Luka kebab), that you must try when you come to visit us.

It is unique in its appearance, taste and way of serving. The dish, the beginnings of which go back to more than 100 years ago, became famous taking root in the entire former SFRY, and then further around the world. Another specificity of the city is the well-known Banja Luka beer, created in 1873, which attracts all lovers of this divine drink with its special taste, obtained through carefully guarded recipes.

If you would rather prefer something traditional, you are recommended to visit the Kazamat, Vila Vrbas, Stara Ada or Banjalučki splav restaurants that offer a wide variety of local dishes.

On the other hand, for all lovers of international cuisine, restaurants such as Mala stanica, Agape, Marko Polo, Gatsby, Pastirska kuća, Hedonist raft, Kaldрма1929 or Zaplet will be the right choice! For guests wishing to experiment with tastes, we suggest going for a meal to one of the Chinese restaurants, Sećuan or Lukijan.
